The First Church Of Marietta, Ohio
THE CHURCH OF THE PIONEERS
318 Front Street
Organized Dec. 6, 1796

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH - (United Church of Christ). Sometimes known as the "Two Horned Church" because of its twin towers, houses the oldest congregation in Marietta, Ohio. The first church, of frame construction, dedicated 1807, was destroyed by fire in 1905. In 1906 at the same spot, (318 Front St.), a new brick building of the same architectural design was erected. Only remnant used from the old church, is the bell in South tower of the new church.
